ROYAL SCHOOL OF CHURCH MUSIC

Join the RSCM

Become a member of the Royal School of Church Music and you'll become part of an organisation dedicated to providing the resources to train and develop church musicians and to promote the use of music in worship throughout the world.

Already we have provided the inspiration and practical guidance to help over 8,000 Affiliated churches and schools, Individual Members and Friends to realise their personal goals for music in worship.

Our members may be drawn from different denominations and parts of the world, they may worship in different ways, they may enjoy different musical styles, but what they do have in common is the belief that good music, used effectively, can greatly enrich Christian worship.
